all-four-cylinder final. In Super Stock, Gregg Sutherland defeated defending event champion Joe Santangelo II. Sutherland and his boss, Marc Lebrecque, met up in the semifinals to guarantee a Diamond RV Center car in the final.

Jim Harrington's Drag Racing School was at the track Thursday assisting some of the racers with consistency. Harrington's work paid big dividends for Super Stock winner Sutherland and

Cecil Frazier, who was runner-up in Stock. Harrington himself went several rounds in both of his cars before bowing out. Anthony Pennine continued the Jim Penta Racing stable's success at the NED Open Series events by taking the Stock crown in an all-fuel-injected final. Eric Cabral, driving John Jillettes' dragster, won Super Comp for the hometown crowd, taking the win from Don Bangs and his unique AMC-powered dragster. Frank Maiolo began his Super Gas season well by defeating Jason Vitez in

Remote chassis inspection

Many racers have asked whom to call for remote chassis-inspection appointments. Following is a list of Northeast Division chassis inspectors. These people are willing to help, but remember that this is not a full-time job for them and that they have to work around job and family obligations. There will be a charge in addition to the sticker charge for chassis inspections done by private appointment.
